What is Project Management, and why should we care?

Tiffany M. Dahlberg
President of Ready2ACT and PMP®

October 22, 12 noon
Building 500
Bushnell Auditorium, 8th floor

It’s not just a lab project; with limited funding in the biomedical sciences, effective management of your projects might make all the difference. During this highly interactive one-hour program, we will learn about the profession of Project Management and how it can help you improve the success of your research, your career, and your contribution to science.
