DENVER'S BUSINESS SCHOOL

The future of business education in the Rocky Mountain region is here, at the University of Colorado Denver's Business School. Located in Denver's vibrant downtown, the Business School's extensive range of degree programs and innovative industry specializations keep pace with the needs of students and businesses in the region and beyond. Flexible class schedules, AACSB accreditation, and a focus on real-world application make the Business School a top choice for working professionals. Graduates leave with skills and knowledge that prime them for careers of significance.

YOUR MBA

An MBA is the most recognized degree in the world. An MBA from the University of Colorado Denver's Business School balances foundational business education with real-world application. You will learn from outstanding faculty members, case studies, practical business projects, and executive guest speakers. As the largest graduate business program in the region, we provide you with a variety of options for earning your MBA such as flexible schedules for on-campus and online learning, specializations tailored to your career needs and dual degrees that combine the career advantage of an MBA with the focused skills of a Master of Science degree.

MBA REQUIREMENTS

Our MBA will prepare you for the challenges associated with leading departments, projects or an entire industry. Your coursework will teach you the fundamentals of accounting, data analysis, economics, financial management, management of personnel, marketing, operations, and strategic planning. MBA specializations add in-depth knowledge beyond the broad scope learned from the MBA core coursework. For more information about degree requirements, please visit our website at business.ucdenver.edu/mba

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

MBA programs require completion of 48 semester hours, including 30 semester hours of required MBA core courses and 3 semester hours in international business. The remaining 15 semester hours are electives chosen from over 50 graduate business courses. For more information about courses, please visit us at business.ucdenver.edu/mba

SCHOLARSHIPS

The Business School offers a variety of scholarship opportunities to help you finance your graduate degree. Some scholarships are based on financial need and others are based on academic accomplishment. For more information or to apply, please visit our website at business.ucdenver.edu/scholarship

“Through my coursework and additional activities with the Business School, I learned how to effectively translate my previous performance in government roles into valuable skills and knowledge that I was able to immediately apply to the business world. My successful performance in academic work has greatly increased my self confidence in my career.”

11-MONTH MBA

Designed for professionals who are ready for a full-time, accelerated MBA. You'll take all your classes as part of a cohort group, in an executive-style environment and return to work in less than one year. The total immersion design of this degree gives an entire 48 semester-hour MBA degree in just under a year.

THE CU EXECUTIVE MBA

Designed to meet the needs of strategic decision makers. Instead of focusing on day-to-day business operations, CU Executive MBA students learn how to develop a broad business perspective, how to think strategically, and how to make confident decisions based on bottom-line results. The degree can be completed in fewer than two years and is designed for minimal career disruption.

MBA IN HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

Designed for the health professional who would like to add an MBA to their skill set. It prepares you for senior and C-level management in the health care industry.

THE EXECUTIVE MBA PROGRAM IN HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

Designed for practicing health care professionals with a Master of Business Administration degree with an emphasis in health administration in two years.

The Business School at CU Denver has earned accreditation by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB International). This elite distinction is only granted to the top business programs in the world that meet rigorous standards for curriculum, faculty, library, and computer resources.
